COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The State has accepted our offer on a loader-backhoe combination. The machine is to be released in approximately ten days.

An attempt has been made to improve the approaches to the so-called Smith Crossing on old Rt. 2 in West Bethel. The town has hauled gravel on each side of the railroad tracks to elevate the road in order to improve visibility. The railroad is going to lengthen their planks on the crossing.

Tarring operations were completed on the section of the Grover Hill Road that was constructed last year. The Hale Road in West Bethel and the approaches to the Smith Crossing were also surfaced. As soon as we screen more sand we will be able to do the resurfacing work and driveways.

The Assessors have just about completed their work for the year. We should be able to get the tax bills mailed in July this year which will be the earliest it has been done for some time. We have hopes of being able to improve even more next year.—Elwyn N. Dickey

At the close of the supper Commander David Myers presented Laura Inman a certificate of merit for her donation of the land where the new hall is located, also one to Past Commander Emerson Clough, who by his devotion and perseverance which included many long hours of workmanship to the Legion Hall construction. There is still much to be done to the kitchen and Auxiliary's rooms to make it convenient for the ladies.

Credit to both Mr. and Mrs. Dana Brooks, for their faithful and efficient service, as County Council Commander and President for the past year, 1971. THE TRUTH THAT HEALS
A Christian Science radio series

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

June 8, 1971

Dear Citizens of S. A. D. #44,

At the Board of Directors meeting this past Monday evening a delegation of students from the Student Council came to us with a request for a smoking area on a trial basis outside and behind Telstar High School. (Only students with parental permission would be allowed in the area.) They came in good faith and had obviously done quite a lot of research, pro and con, both in our school and in others which have smoking problems and/or smoking areas. Their arguments included: 1.) the fact that students are smoking constantly in the bathrooms now, making it difficult to use them as bathrooms, and that it would take a full time employee to patrol and prevent this 2.) the concern over hurting a student academically by suspension for a smoking violation, 3.) the fire hazard, and 4.) the peer pressure to "take a drag" every time a student goes into a bathroom.

The Superintendent and the Principal stated that the arguments are valid and they recommended that the students be allowed to have the smoking area on a trial basis.

The Board, the Administration, and some faculty expressed a concern for the students' health and we certainly do not want to encourage students to smoke. Ideally we would like to see no students smoking. But the reality is that they are smoking and will undoubtedly continue to smoke in the present irresponsible manner. Perhaps, with a smoking area we could begin to regulate and control it by bringing the smoking out into the open. The outdoor smoking area has been tried and does work at other schools.

In an effort to represent you, we would like to know what you think about this. Whether you are for or against the smoking area, please call or write to your school board representative and express your ideas.

Respectfully yours,
Peggy Crosbie

ACTIVITIES

It was with a great deal of regret that students and faculty said goodbye to Madame Jeanne-Marie Thomine-Desmazures last Friday. Madame Thomine has returned to France after having taught French since the beginning of the school. She will be greatly missed.

After school on Monday, June 7, 24 Library Club members, six guests, and Mrs. Gibbs, the Club advisor, enjoyed a picnic and outing at Littlefield Beaches. Lobster and steaks were on the menu, and swimming, boating, and water-skiing were indulged in by some of the hardier members of the group. Especially entertaining were some spectacular aquabatics performed by Donald Marquis.

COUNCIL COMMENTS

The eight-track stereo-tape player, for which donations were received by the sophomore class, was held last Friday. The lucky recipient was Donald Morin. Congratulations, Don!

The Council held an open meeting last week to hear any complaints, comments, and for praises from the Student body. Public relations were discussed at length and we were pleased to hear the many possible suggestions from those students who attended. The influence of a student council member on the school board was also discussed. Many and varied views were heard. All in all the meeting produced good results.

Due to the muggy weather and the tension of the ever-evil final exams, the average student of this high school had acquired a limp and hollow-eyed appearance. But one ray of hope remains: next week at this time school will be out. For this reason this will be the last "council comments" until next fall. I hope everyone has a great summer.—Roberta Croteau.

Seventh-day Adventist Church

There were two graduates from the 8th grade, Viola Sumner and Stephen Dunham. They left Sunday morning with the teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Joy, for a month's trip to California.

Why do Seventh-day Adventists maintain Church Schools? Our pastor gives a valid answer in the last issue of "Chum" magazine: "Many people wonder in these days of inflation why churches go to the expense of operating private schools. Are not public schools good enough?

Actually it is not a question of the quality of instruction. Nor is there any desire to be in competition with public school systems. In modern thinking the public school is not the place to give instruction in the Bible. Seventh-day Adventists, who operate schools from elementary through university feel that the Bible is the foundation of education. They feel that society needs the type of morality and conduct that the Bible teaches. . . . . The operation of church schools is becoming increasingly expensive, but instead of closing our schools or calling upon government aid, we accept the challenge to sacrifice more for the continuance of what we consider a valuable way of life." Quoted from Pastor David Shaw's article in "Chum".

The young pepole from the area churches, in company with their leaders and parents will enjoy a week end at Camp Lawroweld, on June 25, 26, 27.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

The season's clock struck June 1, a perfect day, warm in the noon time sun. Summer had arrived and across the quiet of the country noon I could hear the bees playing on their bassoon outside.

Suddenly I decided I, too, should be out and that this was the day to climb to the Waterhouse Place and take up some roses. So I took my shovel and pail and set out up the bulldozer road. This was a mass of violets attired in the brightest of blues; their little faces gleaming. Cascading over and flitting around were the black flies and I, not the violets, was the center of attraction.

Shortly I crossed the wall into a field of gold. What was it that I saw so golden bright, sprinkled among the grass along the way?

"Was it pirate's gold that someone found
Cached away in a secret mound
Then fled, surprised by a guard in the night
And scattered the coins in his hurried flight?" (Bertha L. Stone)

Dandelions, masses of tiny suns to to be gone soon in a mist of fluff on the wind.

"I found their faces most attractive,
Wearing a cheery, golden smile:
They nestled low upon earth's bosom,
Sharing her late warmth the while." (Frank P. Fletcher)

I had left the lonely road that once served a past generation and followed the cowpath which, too, will soon vanish for the fences were being removed to be a pasture no longer. And no more will the lumbering cattle quietly grazing stop to raise their heads and to low as I pass this way.

Higher up I could see the farmhouse and the grass growing green and lush. The orchards and roadsides were gowned in pink and white for apple blossom time had again come to Maine. I caught their fragrance as I sauntered by; their petals fluttering down like snowflakes.

Beyond lay the pond with glassy waters mirroring the sun's radiant blush.

I sat on the wall and looked to the mountains reaching the sky's azure blue with never a cloud above the valley's peaceful view.

It's a scene unsurpassed anywhere; always those peaks, guardians of our valley, courageous, undaunted, untouched, unchanged by time; Nature's masterpiece as centuries come and go. What grandeur and magnificence those early settlers up there enjoyed as they gazed in silent wonder at their beauty.

Now I had arrived by the old wall, the old well, the old cellar holes, and the largest lilac stand I had ever seen in one group, so I performed the task for which I had come.

These roses have grown and spread for many years, many standing by the fieldstone walls. When in bloom one can breathe their incense and drink in their beauty of texture, velvet petals and coloring.

Roses in my pail, shovel over my shoulder, I set out for home but didn't hurry as there was too much to see.

The fields, woods, and walls were dressed in their gayest robes and their fragrance was refreshing. There were ferns against the walls which resembled lace. I noticed, too, the velvet shadows as they crossed each flower's face.

Through the needled firs the wind softly trilled and the sunlight spilled its glory on their verdant heads.

Coming up from the fields and flying above the warm gray boulders came the gay bubbling songs of the bobolinks for they must sing. They seemed to salute me with a familiar "Hello, old friend, are you looking for me." This alone was worth the trip for I never hear them at home.

I visited the old, blue pearmain apple tree now completely hollow but in full bloom. How it lives and produces fruit is a complete mystery.

Strawberry blossoms by the path everywhere, soon to be replaced by small, sweet berries, red and luscious.

Crossing the wall to enter again the old road the voice of the bobolink of the hillside, respendent in his plumage glinted his farewell.

Immediately I was greeted by other voices, most unpleasant. Those multitudinous insects, swarming black flies and steely sounding mosquitoes. They knew I had both hands occupied so they attacked viciously. In a few moments I was in the sunshine and home. They were left waiting for another attack, at another time, and I hope, another victim.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Chase and Mrs. Rena Bacon, West Paris, were callers this week, at Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt's and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morgan's.

Mrs. Doris Hayes and Mrs. Colista Morgan joined several other retired teachers for supper at the Country Way Friday evening to honor Dorothy Ross on her retirement.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morgan and Walter Curtis were in Bingham on a fishing trip over the week end.

Joan Morgan, Katherine Hakala and Jean Millett accompanied Mrs. Willard's class to the Fish Hatchery in Gray on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hakala returned to Texas on Thursday.

Maureen Millett, Lee Ann and Brian Curtis have the mumps at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morris are on vacation this week.

CORRECT PROBLEMS EARLY
HAVE YOUR CHILD TESTED

Three health problems that can often be the cause of a child doing poorly in school are speech deficiency, poor hearing and bad eye sight. Any or all of these can strongly inhibit the desire for a child to learn and to enjoy the friendships of companions at school.

Many schools will make arrangements for children to be tested for these problems as part of their program or you can ask your family doctor to do it for you. Don't take a chance on having difficulties interfere with what should be a happy time in your child.

PROPER FERTILIZING
That's why TURF BUILDER is America's favorite lawn fertilizer. Turf Builder is made by Scott's exclusive Trionized process which enables it to release its nutrients only as the grass needs them. There's no surge growth to cause extra mowing, and there's no wasteful over-feeding or nutrient loss from leaching. Just a thicker, greener, sturdier lawn. Spread Turf Builder on your lawn this weekend, and see for yourself.
